

(Reuters) - A video published on Thursday showed fighters of the al Qaeda-linked Nusra Front in Syria executing 11 men they accused of taking part in massacres by President Bashar al-Assad's forces.

The film is believed to be from eastern Deir al-Zor province and dates from some time in 2012, according to the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights, an opposition monitoring group.

The Observatory's head, Rami Abdelrahman, said the Nusra Front has recently been releasing several videos of their past operations. He said the man seen executing the prisoners in the video - a Nusra commander - had been killed in March 2013 in battles with local tribes in the province.

The footage shows the commander, his face covered in a black balaclava, shooting each prisoner in the back of the head as they kneeled, blindfolded and lined up in a row in the sand.

"The sharia court for the eastern region in Deir al-Zor has sentenced to death these apostate soldiers that committed massacres against our brothers and families in Syria," the executioner said on the video.

Islamist militants with black flags shouted "God is great" as each man was shot. The executioner returned to some victims, firing more bullets into them to make sure they were dead.

Videos of executions and torture have become increasingly common in Syria, where more than 94,000 people have been killed in a conflict now in its third year, according to the British-based Observatory, which has a network of activists in Syria.

Such videos posted online are hard to verify due to government restrictions on access for

Analysis & Opinion

Vote on Syria meets Russian resistance

Learning the wrong lessons from Israel's intervention in Syria

Related Topics

World »

Syria »

(Reuters) - A video published on Thursday showed fighters of the al Qaeda-linked Nusra Front in Syria executing 11 men they accused of taking part in massacres by President Bashar al-Assad's forces.

The film is believed to be from eastern Deir al-Zor province and dates from some time in 2012, according to the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights, an opposition monitoring group.

The Observatory's head, Rami Abdelrahman, said the Nusra Front has recently been releasing several videos of their past operations. He said the man seen executing the prisoners in the video - a Nusra commander - had been killed in March 2013 in battles with local tribes in the province.

The footage shows the commander, his face covered in a black balaclava, shooting each prisoner in the back of the head as they kneeled, blindfolded and lined up in a row in the sand.

"The sharia court for the eastern region in Deir al-Zor has sentenced to death these apostate soldiers that committed massacres against our brothers and families in Syria," the executioner said on the video.

Islamist militants with black flags shouted "God is great" as each man was shot. The executioner returned to some victims, firing more bullets into them to make sure they were dead.

Videos of executions and torture have become increasingly common in Syria, where more than 94,000 people have been killed in a conflict now in its third year, according to the British-based Observatory, which has a network of activists in Syria.

Analysis & Opinion

Vote on Syria meets Russian resistance

Learning the wrong lessons from Israel's intervention in Syria

Related Topics

World »

Syria »

The Observatory's head, Rami Abdelrahman, said the Nusra Front has recently been releasing several videos of their past operations. He said the man seen executing the prisoners in the video - a Nusra commander - had been killed in March 2013 in battles with local tribes in the province.

The footage shows the commander, his face covered in a black balaclava, shooting each prisoner in the back of the head as they kneeled, blindfolded and lined up in a row in the sand.

"The sharia court for the eastern region in Deir al-Zor has sentenced to death these apostate soldiers that committed massacres against our brothers and families in Syria," the executioner said on the video.

Islamist militants with black flags shouted "God is great" as each man was shot. The executioner returned to some victims, firing more bullets into them to make sure they were dead.

Videos of executions and torture have become increasingly common in Syria, where more than 94,000 people have been killed in a conflict now in its third year, according to the British-based Observatory, which has a network of activists in Syria.

Such videos posted online are hard to verify due to government restrictions on access for independent media.

The Nusra video is the second video to be published in the past two days showing executions by

~~fighters who are thought to be from al-Qaeda-linked groups~~

France's Hollande says wants euro zone government

reuters.com

reuters.com - PARIS (Reuters) - French President Francois Hollande called on Thursday for an economic government for the euro zone that would have its own budgetary capacity, a harmonized tax system and a presid...

Niger villagers take mass public vow to end female genital mutilation

reuters.com

reuters.com - MAKALONDI, Niger (Reuters) - About 14,000 villagers from 20 communities in Niger took a public vow to end female genital mutilation (FGM) and forced under-age marriage as the West African country's...

Jets join offensive in northeast Nigeria, opinion split

reuters.com

reuters.com - YOLA, Nigeria (Reuters) - Nigeria sent fighter jets in support of troops fighting increasingly powerful Islamist insurgents in its northeast on Thursday, the second day of a military offensive that...

Russia's Putin to take to the air for Kremlin commute

reuters.com

France's Hollande urges euro zone government

 Recommend

 35 people recommend this. Sign Up to see what your friends recommend.

By Mark John and Ingrid Melander
PARIS | Thu May 16, 2013 1:45pm EDT

(Reuters) - French President Francois Hollande called on Thursday for an economic government for the euro zone with its own budget, the right to

Tweet

 Share 3

 Share this

 +1 3

 Email

 Print

Related News

Germany can't stop euro zone from sinking into longest recession

Wed, May 15 2013

France slips into shallow recession

Wed, May 15 2013

Spain, Portugal push for full banking union as Germany finds

(Reuters) - French President Francois Hollande called on Thursday for an economic government for the euro zone with its own budget, the right to borrow, a harmonized tax system and a full-time president.

At a 150-minute news conference marking his first year in office, a day after economic data showed France had slipped into recession, the Socialist leader defended his record on economic reform and budget discipline and told the French people they would have to work "a bit longer" for a full pension in future.

Rebutting criticism that France has lost its leadership role in Europe because of its dwindling economic competitiveness, Hollande said he wanted to create a fully-fledged political European Union within two years.

"It is my responsibility as the leader of a founder member of the European Union... to pull Europe out of this torpor that has gripped it, and to reduce people's disenchantment with it," Hollande said.

"If Europe stays in the state it is now, it could be the end of the project."

He acknowledged he could face resistance from Germany, Europe's dominant power, which opposes mutualising debt among member states. Berlin is also reluctant to give the euro zone its own secretariat for fear of deepening division in the EU, between the 17 members of the single currency and the 10 others.

Wed, May 15 2013

Spain, Portugal push for full banking union as Germany finds hurdles

Mon, May 13 2013

German finance minister softens stance on EU bank union

Tue, May 7 2013

EU's Barnier calls on France to pursue economic reforms

Sat, May 4 2013

Analysis & Opinion

Cameron's dilemma

The growing Franco-German schism

Related Topics

World »

the euro zone with its own budget, the right to borrow, a harmonized tax system and a full-time president.

At a 150-minute news conference marking his first year in office, a day after economic data showed France had slipped into recession, the Socialist leader defended his record on economic reform and budget discipline and told the French people they would have to work "a bit longer" for a full pension in future.

Rebutting criticism that France has lost its leadership role in Europe because of its dwindling economic competitiveness, Hollande said he wanted to create a fully-fledged political European Union within two years.

"It is my responsibility as the leader of a founder member of the European Union... to pull Europe out of this torpor that has gripped it, and to reduce people's disenchantment with it," Hollande said.

"If Europe stays in the state it is now, it could be the end of the project."

He acknowledged he could face resistance from Germany, Europe's dominant power, which opposes mutualising debt among member states. Berlin is also reluctant to give the euro zone its own secretariat for fear of deepening division in the EU, between the 17 members of the single currency and the 10 others.

Non-euro Britain's government already faces growing domestic pressure to hold a referendum on leaving the bloc.

Hollande said he wanted Britain to stay in the EU but added: "I can understand that others don't nurdies

Mon, May 13 2013

German finance minister softens stance on EU bank union

Tue, May 7 2013

EU's Barnier calls on France to pursue economic reforms

Sat, May 4 2013

Analysis & Opinion

Cameron's dilemma

The growing Franco-German schism

Related Topics

World »

Eurogroup

The Eurogroup, the main forum for the management of the single currency area, is an informal body that brings together the finance ministers of countries whose currency is the euro.

The Commission's Vice-President for Economic and Monetary Affairs, as well as the President of the European Central Bank, also participate in Eurogroup meetings.

The Eurogroup's role is to ensure close coordination of economic policies within the euro area. It also aims to promote conditions for stronger economic growth, as well as to promote financial stability.

As part of its duties, the Eurogroup prepares Euro Summit meetings and ensures their follow-up.

The Eurogroup usually meets once a month, on the eve of the meeting of the Council of the European Union (Economic and Financial Affairs - ECOFIN).

This section contains information about the Eurogroup, its President and the Eurogroup working group, as well as texts adopted by the Eurogroup and texts adopted by the Council of the EU that are of particular relevance to the euro area.

THEME CLASSROOM EXAMPLES

Integrity Requires Wholeness

A Person with integrity is someone who puts effort on doing better in life

A person of integrity has honor and responsibility to defend his/her country.

A person of integrity is a person who sticks up for a friend.

John Maloney

Don Maloney

A person of integrity is honest, honorable, principled, courageous, and someone people example themselves as.

Shirley Baker
Terry Clavin

A Person of integrity takes care of something valuable to someone. ∴

"A Person of integrity helps ^{prepare} for what's ahead"

Richard
George A.

A person of integrity is someone who lives their life by what they believe in.

A person of integrity is a person who takes care of other people.

Justice requires restraint

Justice demands I not say or do some things to myself,
any other person,
or the planet.

The actions I take,
and the decisions I make, must respect the rights of all.

Integrity Requires Wholeness

Integrity requires that the way I live my life is whole, entire, undivided, sound, coherent, and principled. Integrity moves me to do difficult and new things, not just easy and accustomed things.

XIII AMENDMENT

Amendment ☆

Responsibility is doing what I should do, doing what I said I would do, doing what is best for everybody;
especially doing the one thing I should be doing right now.

★ Responsibility is the active side of Morality:

- DOING WHAT I SHOULD DO
- DOING WHAT I SAID I'D DO
- DOING WHAT IS BEST FOR EVERYBODY

ESPECIALLY

Doing The ONE Thing I Should Be Doing Right Now.

- A
- Be ...
becom
 - Be ... your d
 - Be ... your
 - Be ...
becom
 - Be ...
char

Change is possible.

Change Requires 3 Things:

- ① a vision
- ② a plan
- ③ effort

- Change requires us to drop bad habits & pick up good habits

- Change requires effort, even when we don't feel like working

- Change requires us to take
 ONE STEP at a TIME

Justice Requires

 Restraint:

there are things that you can't say or do...

- to yourself
- to any other person
- or to the planet

because Justice demands it.

The actions I take & the decisions I make must respect the rights of all.

 Integrity

★ ONE STEP at A TIME

all.

Courage ★

REQUIRES... MODERATION

★ COURAGE is risk for a REASON ★

NOT risk for a thrill

COURAGE REQUIRES WE MODERATE
OUR IMPULSES AND EMOTIONS.

COURAGE LEADS US TO CONSIDER OUR HEROIC JOURNEY IN WHICH WE LIVE FOR PURPOSES BIGGER THAN OURSELVES & OUR WANTS & NEEDS

INTEGRITY

REQUIRES WHOLENESS

INTEGRITY MEANS:

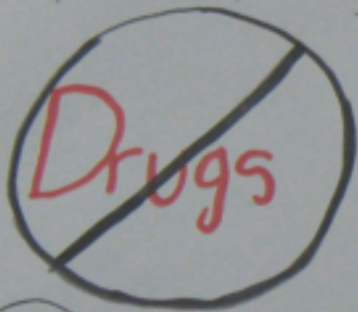

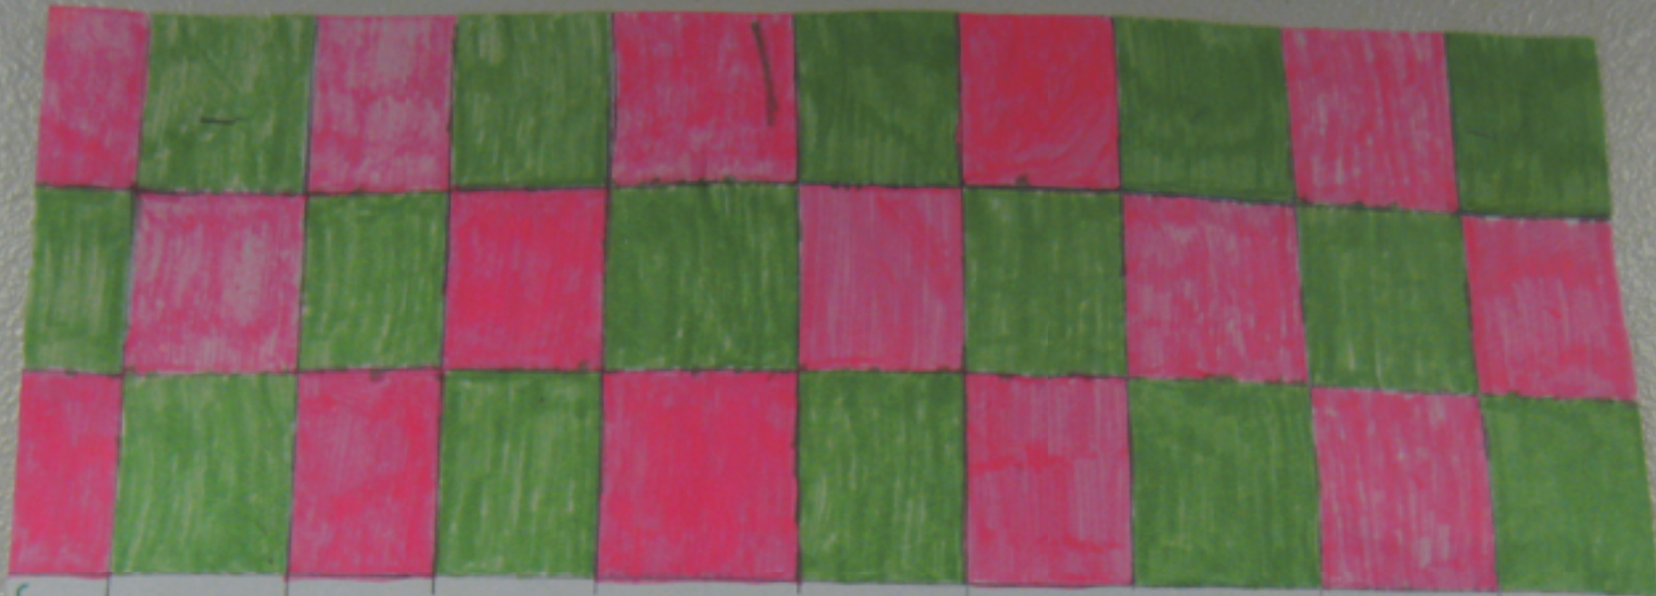

- I LIVE MY LIFE WHOLE, ENTIRE, undivided, sound, coherent, and principled.
- I DO DIFFICULT and NEW things, not just EASY accustomed things.

FREE MY PEOPLE

Justice
Requires Restraint

Justice

Requires

Restraint

Anna Kase
"Schon" Verberna M